CRRSAA Frequently Asked Questions

What is CRRSAA?

On December 27, 2020, the Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriation Act (CRRSAA) was signed into law. This law provides grants to proprietary institutions to use to provide financial aid grants to students. Funds may be used for any component of a student's Cost of Attendance or for emergency costs that arise due to coronavirus such as tuition, food, housing, health care (including mental health care) or childcare. The institution is required to prioritize the disbursement of these funds to students with exceptional need such as Pell eligible students.

How much will I receive?

We are committed to assisting all eligible students that may have been impacted by the coronavirus pandemic to the greatest extent possible with the CRRSAA funds available. The actual amount each student will receive is based on the number of applications received and the funds available. Students will be served on a first come, first served basis with priority given to those students with exceptional need. Awards will be based on your needs as identified on an application. Students are encouraged to provide documentation or receipts for items to support the expenses. Please note the school has received a limited amount of funds through this program and once exhausted no further awards will be made.

Does this funding affect my other financial aid?

No. This is an emergency grant to help you manage unexpected expenses related to the coronavirus, and it will not have any impact on other financial aid you have or may be eligible to receive.

Do I need to repay the money?

No, you will not need to repay any money received through this fund. At this time, it is uncertain how CRRSAA funds will be noted on the 2021 IRS Form 1098-T (Tuition Statement).

How will I receive these funds?

Students will receive the funds by paper check. If the student requests funding for institutional costs, the student does have the option to have the money directly credited to their institutional account.

Are the emergency grants taxable?

Per the IRS, these funds are not taxable; however, this also means that no deduction or credit can be claimed on them. Also, it is uncertain the impact of reporting of funds that are applied to your account to cover tuition and fees. At this time, it is uncertain how the funds will be reported on your 2021 IRS Form 1098-T (Tuition Statement).
